Hi Betsy,

Thanks so much for your comments, though I think you attached the wrong file last night. ☹

I added in the sentence we discussed about the increase in research. I moved some text around and added more to try to make your points in the number sections. See what you think. I will watch my email tomorrow morning.

Here's the latest version of the draft to go back to Heather on the differences between the MRLs and HAs (used to be RfDs). Please let me know by 10AM if you have any additional edits. If you're looking at the previous version, please continue on that version. Not much has changed here. Thanks and happy early memorial day weekend!
